JUDICIARY COMMITTEE WILL TAKE UP MATTER OF REAPPORTIONMENT

Principal Matter of Business When the Assembly Convenes Next Tuesday—
Would Give Cook County Five More
Senators and Fifty-Seven Representatives

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 1.—Consideration of a plan to reapportion the state senatorial districts will be the principal matter of business for the house judiciary committee when the general assembly convenes here next Tuesday. Speaker Shanahan today designated that body to start its deliberations in response to a joint resolution presented by Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg, January 10, which asked for an apportionment under the basis of the present state population, and the constitutional provisions.

The senate was not in session today and but five bills were received in the house during its 25 minute session.

Legislators believe the greatest fall for the reapportionment is from Cook county which would be affected principally by any change in the senatorial districts. Under the present plan Cook county has 19 districts, or 19 senators, and 57 representatives in the general assembly.

If the reapportionment movement is a success, Cook county, it is figured, would have 24 senators and 72 representatives, or 5 additional senators and 15 more representatives.

LENROOT ACCUSES SEN. BROOKHART OF SOVIET VIEWS

Two Have Fervid Tilt
During Discussion of Farm Credits

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Extreme and conservative advocates of farm relief legislation clashed today in the senate during discussion of the Lenroot-Anderson farm credits bill on which a final vote will be taken under agreement today.

Russian soviet views were attributed to Senator Brookhart, new Republican member from Iowa, by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, co-author of the pending bill, and drew a sharp retort from the Iowan in a fervid hour's tilt.

Senator Brookhart's plan for co-operative banking and other enterprises drew the fire of Senator Lenroot, who said Lenin and Trotsky would not advocate some of Mr. Brookhart's ideas. Senator Brookhart replied that such charges had figured in the campaign against his election in Iowa and he added that "the people of Wisconsin have much to answer for, and among these things is the junior senator from the state."

Little progress was made today on the bill which, assured of passage tomorrow, will complete the senate's farm credits program. Sheets of amendments went over until tomorrow when debate will be limited after 2 o'clock. The only important amendment adopted today was by Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia, providing for distribution of excess capital of credits agencies to be financed by the government. The amendment accepted by Senator Lenroot provided that the initial $5,000,000 capital of each credit department might be trebled instead of doubled with the condition that not more than $120,000,000 in all should be provided by the government for all twelve proposed credit departments.

With the exception of the fight against the bill in the senate led by Senator Sneed of Herrin, no other debate has taken place.

WILL PUSH ILLINOIS WATERWAY PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 1.—Efforts to push the Illinois waterway to completion in accordance with Governor Small's program announced last December are indicated in an announcement today by the department of public works and buildings, that bids for additional work will be let this month.

Contracts are now being drawn. The location for the new work will be announced within a few days, W. L. Sackett, superintendent of the division of waterways announced.

"We expect a large number of bids and hope they will be on competitive basis," Mr. Sackett said. "If the prices are right we are ready to let other contracts and start the dirt flying."

Condemnation suits have been filed by the attorney general for land to be used for locks at Utica and other suits for land along the route will be filed as rapidly as they can be arranged.

With the exception of the fight against the bill in the senate led by Senator Sneed of Herrin, no other debate has taken place.

WOULD PURCHASE
NITRATE FOR FARMERS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Government purchase of $10,000,000 worth of nitrate and its resale to farmers at cost for use in connection with the 1924 crop would be authorized by a bill ordered favorably reported today by the house agriculture committee.

As it was passed by the senate and originally offered in the house by Representative Stevenson, Democrat, South Carolina the measure would have provided for the purchase and sale of the nitrate for this year's crop, but members of the house committee changed the effective time on one ground that the operation could not be completed in time for the use of the fertilizers on the farms this spring.

The expectation is that the nitrate would be bought in Chile, although it is not so specified in the bill.

INVESTIGATION OF VETERAN'S BUREAU MAY MAKE CHANGES

Bitter Controversy of Several Months
Causes Probe

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The administration of the Veterans' Bureau for months a subject of bitter controversy is undergoing an investigation which is expected by some well informed officials here to result in important readjustments.

How far the changes to be made will go in the direction of a complete overthrow of bureau personnel and methods of operation remains to be determined by President Harding after all the facts have been ascertained and laid before him but it would cause no surprise among some of his closest advisers if shifts recently made among bureau officials were followed by others of a more far reaching character.

The inquiry is understood to have undertaken after many charges of improper administration had reached the white house from the American Legion and other sources and after members of congress who have looked into bureau affairs had about perfected a plan to ask for a public congressional investigation. For the present the storm center of the controversy appears to be the legal division of the bureau which has the final say on all contracts for hospital sites and other contracts involved in the government's program of veteran aid.

Charles R. Cramer, who, as general counsel for the bureau was head of the legal division, retired from office after he had announced that he would leave it to Colonel Charles P. Forbes, the bureau director to say whether his services were any longer considered desirable. Now Colonel Forbes himself is enroute to Europe for a rest and administration of the bureau is in other hands. Some of the colonel's friends do not expect him to return to his desk, altho administration officials insist that he is no sense under "suspension." They are unwilling to predict whether he will be asked to step out or will voluntarily give up his directorship.

In any case the question of selecting a new director is receiving serious consideration and it is predicted generally by those who know the inside of the bureau's affairs that Colonel Thomas W. Miller now alien property custodian will be first choice for the place.

Colonel Miller, however, is believed to prefer to stay at his present post and it is said that the selection may fall ultimately on Frank D'Oliver, who was the first National Commander of the American Legion.

Officials will not talk about the facts already turned up by the inquiry now in progress. William J. Burns, chief of the justice department's investigation bureau declined today to discuss the case in any way or to confirm reports that agents under his bureau had been at work on it.

BLIND STUDENT WINS LAW SCHOLARSHIPS

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Blind student George H. Weinblatt, 23 years old, has accomplished that no student at Northwestern university with perfect eyesight has been able to do—win two law school scholarships in the same year, it was announced today.

"My mother is my pair of eyes," he said. "She reads all my work to me—law books, law lessons, technical legal statements—and I brief the cases just as any other student does."

Weinblatt explained that he kept his notes on a slate and stylus in the raised dots of the Braille system—the language of the blind. His finished work is hammered out on a standard typewriter.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—George M. Shultz, president of the New York Cotton exchange, characterized as "unworthy of the gentleman who voiced it," the statement today of Senator Heftlin, Democrat of Alabama, that cotton prices were being held down until all stocks should be out of the hands of the producers.

"I believe," said Mr. Shultz, "that the cotton market has done remarkably well this season considering the condition prevailing abroad."

SMITH JURY IS DEADLOCKED

ARDMORE, Okla., Feb. 1.—(By The A. P.)—The jury considering the case of Jeff Smith, Heftlin oil field worker, charged with the murder of Joe Carroll, alleged bootlegger, who was slain by a mob last week, was locked up for the night shortly after 10 p. m., without making a report. Rumors were that the jurors were deadlocked.

THREE DIE OF POISON

Streator, Ill., Feb. 1.—Archie White, 45 years old, and his two sons, aged 16 and 9, respectively were found dead in their home tonight. It is believed they were accidentally poisoned. White was a widower.

The expectation is that the nitrate would be bought in Chile, although it is not so specified in the bill.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A blank proposition for Jack Dempsey to meet Harry Wills, negro boxer and Joe Beckett, English heavyweight, was made today to Jack Kearns, the champion's manager by Tom O'Rourke, matchmaker at the Polo Grounds after Tex Rickard, internationally known boxing promoter had decided not to exercise an option which he had on Dempsey's services.

The signed contracts of four other players reached the Giants today.

They were centerfielder Jimmy O'Connell, another $75,000 star, acquired from San Francisco; Bill Cunningham, who alternated in centerfield with Casey Stengel last year; Fred Johnson, pitcher, obtained from San Antonio and Travis Jackson, shortstop, acquired from Little Rock, Ark.

O'Rourke proposed that the bouts be held at the Polo Grounds in this city between April 15 and October 15, preferably on the fourth of July and September 3, Labor Day. Matching of Dempsey and Beckett would depend on the outcome of a bout between the Englishman and Georges Carpentier in London in May.

O'Rourke made it clear he would not consider a match between Dempsey and Jess Willard—a match already barred in New York and New Jersey. While the details of O'Rourke's proposition were not made public, it was understood Dempsey's end of the purse for both matches would total $500,000.

Kearns announced he would make his decision next Monday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The semi-finals in the invitation tennis doubles produced an upset today, when Miss Leslie Bancroft and Mrs. B. E. Cole of the Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, were defeated by the Metropolitan winners, Miss Lillian Scharman and Miss Ceres Baker, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2. The volleying of Miss Baker and the fine overhanders of Miss Scharman accounted for the victory.

Miss Marie Wagner of New York and Mrs. Carl V. Hitchings Mexican champion, won the other place in the final round, defeating Mrs. S. F. Weaver and Mrs. DeForest Candie of New York and Hempstead 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Bancroft won easily in the first of the semi-final singles by defeating Miss Wagner 6-1, 6-1.

Mrs. Molla Bjurstrom Mallory, national titleholder will be opposed tomorrow by Miss Scharman in the second semi-final singles.

Four more loaves to the sack!

A sack of Valier's Enterprise Flour lasts a surprisingly long time. Eight or less cups of Enterprise will produce as much baking as nine cups of ordinary flour. You will get at least four more loaves from each sack of Enterprise.

Enterprise has superior strength, a concentrated goodness. It is slowly milled from the creamy-white centers of specially-selected, fully matured hard winter wheat.

This exacting attention to quality makes Enterprise cost a little more than ordinary flour. But please remember this: Enterprise not only goes further; it assures better baking and does away with needless, costly failures.

Heating Plant Now Being Converted into Junk by William Lyons—Other White Hall News Notes.

White Hall, Feb. 1.—Further evidence of the termination of cold winter weather is found in the purchase of the municipal heating plant by William Lyons, who is converting it into junk. Lyons' acquisition includes four boilers, pumps, transformers and everything, including building. The stack alone consists of 27,000 brick, and there are ten to fifteen thousand brick in the structure, all of which are being bought with a rapidity that is evidence of the quality and low price. The plant was purchased from the C. I. P. S. Co., this company having acquired the heating system when it purchased the local electric enterprise from H. C. Morrow et al. It has been a long time to abandon the heating business in order to avoid the cost of rehabilitation that would render the investment unprofitable. The C. I. P. S. Co. offered to pay the patrons to take the system off its hands, and the result was the complete abandonment of the use of municipal heat two years ago and the installation of private heating units.

I. O. O. F. Roll Call.

The annual roll call of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs was held Tuesday night in I. O. O. F. hall, and there was an attendance of about 200, being the largest affair of the kind yet held. The leading feature was colored operetta under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Littleton, in which about twenty participated. Miss Doris English gave a violin number, and the Little, four year old daughter of James Jolly recited. Dancing followed. The master of ceremonies was T. M. English.

January Weather Report.

January, just closed, is not the warmest month on record in point of average temperature, with a mean of 35.9 degrees. January in 1914, records a mean temperature of 36.5. This information is revealed in the summary of the monthly report of R. B. Pearce, co-operative observer of the weather bureau. Last month had a mean maximum of 43.3 and mean minimum of 28.8 degrees; making the mean 35.9. The highest reading was 58 on the 11th and the lowest 15 on the 6th. The coldest January in local meteorological history was 12.6 degrees in 1918, in which month the lowest reading was 22 below zero, yet the lowest reading on record was 26 below in 1912.

The item of precipitation has not perceptibly improved the situation with reference to water supply, and wells remain short. The total rainfall for the month was 0.95 inch, the greatest in 24 hours being 0.45 inch on the 14th. This total includes 2.5 inches of snow on the 6th which survived two days, and was the only snowfall during the month. There were nine days with precipitation of 0.01 inch or more, nine clear, four partly cloudy and eighteen cloudy days. Thunder showers occurred on the 14th and 27th, but thunder in January does not appear to be unusual. Heavy mist on the 24th produced slippery conditions that prevailed from sunrise until 11 a. m., but no accident is reported.

It is not likely that there has been a more pleasant January or one so favorable for farm work. Considerable plowing was accomplished in order to facilitate early sowing of oats in view of the experience of a year before, when a wet season delayed and practically eliminated an oats crop. There was also some breaking of sod.

The inadequate supply of drinking water has occasioned sufficient influence to bear upon local city officials, headed by Mayor H. W. Roodhouse, to meet the situation by submitting a bond proposition to the voters in connection with the municipal electric proposition at the ensuing city election. The filtering plant can be installed for less than $20,000 and this would involve a total bond issue of little more than $100,000 to cover both propositions. The electric proposition

On New Year's Day, January 1, the following observations were noted under the head of remarks: "Big gang of ducks flew north during the morning; screech owl heard in a maple tree; star visible at 8 a. m.

VIRTUAL AGREEMENT ON DEBT PROGRAM REACHED WITH GEDDES

(Continued From Page One) the first ten years and $141,000,000 a year during the remainder of the period. Great Britain should be required to pay "no more and no less" on its debt to the United States than it declared that this government must pay those from whom it borrowed the money, its own tax payers.

Ambassador Geddes was said today to have made to the American commission a statement constituting a disavowal of press despatches from London carrying an interview with Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer upon his arrival at Southampton. The statement which was given to the press by the embassy declared Mr. Baldwin had given an interview but declared that he had answered some questions informally when he was surrounded by ten or a dozen newspaper correspondents. It was asserted in the statement that no aspersions were cast on the American people adding that, on the other hand, Mr. Baldwin had complimented them for their kindness and hospitality.

RUSSIA'S ACTION CAUSES DEPRESSION

(By The Associated Press) LANSANNE, Feb. 1.—Although such action had been expected, Russia's refusal today to sign the Near East treaty setting forth conditions for the opening of the Straits of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus and for the demilitarization of the straits zones caused depression in Near East conference circles. M. Tchitcherin, the leading Russian delegate, urged that the whole question with regard to the straits be reopened. By doing this the Soviet foreign minister declared the allies would repair their faults of seeking to impose upon Soviet Russia a treaty which Russia had not had suitable opportunity to discuss. His request was refused by the allies.

Ismet Pasha, chief representative of Turkey, complained that the straits convention left Constantinople practically defenseless. The Russia delegation tonight distributed the texts of the two addresses made by M. Tchitcherin before the conference today. They show that the Moscow leader charged that the straits convention was the fruit of clandestine negotiations but that Russia was ready in the interest of conciliation to make important concessions.

When the Russian requests to re-open the discussion was refused M. Tchitcherin charged that the allies had imposed their views on Turkey by an ultimatum and the menace of war. Continuing M. Tchitcherin declared that the convention jeopardized vital interests of Russia, rendered impossible the establishment of a stable peace in the near east and would impose on Russia and other countries supplementary naval amendment which would create an obstacle to the establishment of peace.

"The Russian delegation," he says, "places on record its unchangeable opposition both to the treaty and also to the policy of domination and violence of which this project is an expression."

GREENE COUNTY WOMAN WAS IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. John Driver Sustains Painful Injuries in Automobile Accident Near Carrollton—Music Club Had Meeting.

White Hall, Feb. 1—Mrs. John Driver has been brought to her home on Gregory farm, immediately south of White Hall, and is making slight headway in recovering from the injuries in an automobile accident one-half mile north of Carrollton Tuesday evening, in which she was pinned under the car in a way that resulted in injuries about the neck, back and limbs. Not a bone was broken, however. The car was driven by Dennis Patterson, and other members of the party were Mrs. Ira Davidson and daughter, Miss Lettha, aged 19, all of Eldred. The car skidded and turned over when it hit an embankment. Mrs. Davidson had an eye blackened and her knee and hand hurt. The other two escaped with more minor injuries. Mrs. Driver had been at Quincy to see her father, T. H. Davidson, in the soldier's home, and had returned by way of Eldred to spend a few days with the Davidsons. Her father is in a serious condition. He was a veteran of the Civil war. The car is a wreck. It is, or was, a Dodge, and is the one that was stolen from here about a year ago and afterwards located at Cleveland.

The accident occurred about 3 P. M. Tuesday opposite the Vaughn home. Mr. Vaughn came to assist, and found that in order to extricate Mrs. Driver from under the seat the car had to be lifted bodily, as pressure on either side brought agony to two of the party who were under either side of the car.

Mrs. Driver is only 56 years of age, and there are good prospects for her complete recovery.

Music Club Meets

The January meeting of the Music Club was held with Mrs. H. C. Tunison Tuesday afternoon with an attendance of two dozen. A vocal number by Mrs. Hal Nivius, piano duet by Miss Effie Nicholson and Miss Helen Worcester, a vocal duet by Mrs. C. C. Brown and Miss Laura Duncan, a vocal number by Mrs. Ed C. Pearce and piano solo by Mrs. Clifford Seely was followed by chorus practice under the direction of Mrs. Brown.

Roll call was responded to with names of Illinois composers, and the names of George Turner, N. M. Bogress, W. D. Armstrong, Carrie Jacobs Bond and others were mentioned briefly. The most interesting reference was to Flora Hamilton Casell, a White Hall girl, whose name was given by Mrs. Laura Pritchett, who stated that she was a composer of religious songs, one being "The King's Business." Mrs. Pritchett stated that the little organ used by her as organist in the old Baptist church over fifty years ago is still in existence as the prized possession of a former teacher in the White Hall school, Miss Eva Nelson, now of California.

If the nucleus of the White Hall historical library had been consulted in the township library another name would have been available for the inspiration of the gathering in Mrs. Thomas Carney, wife of Rev. Carney, a Universalist preacher. Mrs. Carney was both an author and composer, and would be edifying as having connection with local history. One of her least prized yet best known productions is known to every school child as running thus, "Little drops of water, little grains of sand," etc.

Some time, perhaps, there will be a great deal of inspiration and pride to be found in our local history when Miss Nell Strang, librarian, gets the material more fully and has it properly indexed in connection with the larger facilities afforded by the new library quarters.

WOMEN KNOCK LITTLE RED SCHOOL HOUSE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The Little Red School House was stripped of all its sentimental traditions today at the Illinois Women's Joint Legislative Forum and was declared to be grossly inefficient, impractical and unscientific. Its death knell is to be sounded in a bill to be proposed to the Illinois legislature soon.

"There are 1,600 district schools that have fewer than three pupils in attendance," said Mrs. Maurice H. Lieber, of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

"The quality of teaching is very poor as out of these teachers only 1,480 have eighth grade training.

"However, the teachers are the best that can be obtained for the money. Why do you know that 4,000 Illinois teachers draw less than $500 a year salary. Under a proposed new plan all districts with an assessed value of less than $20,000 will be wiped out.

"In place of these poorly equipped and poorly conducted isolated schools we shall have at least where patrons and parents desire it, community district schools."

About 500 women from Chicago and downstate representing seventeen large women's organizations attended the forum.

AUSTRIA SAVED FINANCIALLY

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Feb. 1.—The financial salvation of Austria was announced to the council of the league of nations today by the Earl of Balfour as virtually an accomplished fact. A committee reported to the council set forth that the needed loan of $650,000,000 gold crowns had been guaranteed to the amount of 84 per cent by Great Britain, France, Italy and Czechoslovakia that 9 per cent more had been pledged by Spain, Belgium and Switzerland, that Sweden, Denmark and Holland would guarantee the balance.

Thus bankers will be fully guaranteed for any loans they make to Austria up to the total fixed by the committee.

Chancellor Seipel of Austria thanked the council for coming to the rescue of his country, saying it enabled Austria "to preserve its political independence."

Dr. Pospisil of Czechoslovakia said his country was ready to facilitate a revival of Austrian trade and introduced a resolution that all members of the league do likewise.

The representatives of the allies assured the council that their countries were ready to make new commercial treaties with Austria on favorable terms, and the resolution was adopted unanimously.

FORMER RESIDENT OF CITY PASSES AWAY IN LINCOLN

TO DELIVER ADDRESS ON ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Dr. William E. Barton of Oak Park to speak here next Wednesday Evening on "Abraham Lincoln and the American Ideal."

The subject of the lecture which Dr. William E. Barton, of Oak Park, is to give on Wednesday evening, Feb. 7th, will be "Abraham Lincoln and the American Ideal." As previously announced, Dr. Barton is being brought to Jacksonville under the joint auspices of the Morgan County Historical Society, Illinois College and the Congregational Church. His lecture will be given at the hour of 8:15 so as not to interfere with the prayer meetings in the various churches. In fact a couple of the local churches have already agreed to dismiss their prayer meetings early so that the members of their congregations may have an opportunity to hear Dr. Barton. Admission to the lecture will be free, and the public is cordially invited.

Dr. Barton is undoubtedly one of the foremost living authorities on Lincoln. He is the author of two books entitled "The Soul of Abraham Lincoln" and "The Patriarchy of Abraham Lincoln" each of which has taken its place among the permanent literature about Lincoln. He has at present in preparation a biography of Lincoln which will probably be one of the important biographies of the great emancipator.

Dr. Barton is pastor of the First Congregational Church of Oak Park, where he has been for 24 years. Under his ministry, the church has grown from a membership of 700 to 1660. Furthermore, he is the present Moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches of the United States, and in that capacity is visiting a great many parts of the country. In connection with his study of Lincoln, he has visited practically every spot associated with the life of Lincoln. He has planned for a long time to make a visit to Jacksonville because of the connection which Lincoln and some of his associates had with Jacksonville and Illinois College. It will be remembered that Lincoln's law partner, Herndon, was at one time a student in the College as was also David Rutledge, a brother of Ann Rutledge. Dr.

Barton will speak to the students at the regular chapel service Wednesday morning on the subject "The Education of Abraham Lincoln." Any friends who may be interested will be welcome at these exercises.

LITERBERRY CHRISTIAN AID SOCIETY MEETS

The Ladies Aid society of the Literberry Christian church held a meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. S. Hitchens. The attendance was large in spite of the unfavorable condition of the roads, but a change in program was necessitated by the unavoidable absence of several of the members. The devotions were led by Mrs. Frank Ogle, the president of the society. Several pleasing musical numbers were furnished by Mrs. Edith Crum.

Several of the members of the Mothers class of the Christian church Sunday school were present and they held a brief business session at the close of the Aid Society meeting. Plans were discussed for the annual chicken supper, which is to be served some time in February. The committee in charge of this affair includes Mrs. John Martin, chairman; Mrs. McFarland and Mrs. Nora Maul.

The Sunday school class also held an election of officers, choosing the following:

President—Mrs. Howard Liter.
Vice President—Mrs. Jane McFarland.
Secretary—Mrs. Ida Hitchens.
Treasurer—Mrs. Nora Maul.

At the close of the two sessions came a very pleasant social hour and delicious refreshments were served.

ALEXANDER ALTAR
SOCIETY HAD MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Altar society of the Alexander Catholic church was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Barbara Ludwig. The assistant hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Frank Johnson, Miss Regine Ridder and Mrs. Mary Hohman. A brief business session was held when Miss Theresa Ludwig was elected president to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of the former president.

A pleasing feature of the afternoon was a piano solo by Miss Minnie Ludwig. A social hour came at the close of the session and at this time the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

The next meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. Barbara Ludwig in the early part of March.

Cost

We Figure the COST on Everything We Do-Do You?

We know the average cost per mile to operate a service car. Do you? If you make a service car out of your TOURING CAR to help a friend out, and two months after that pay $150.00 to have new gears and bearings put in would you charge it all up to the friend? No, you would watch your average cost per mile. You would avoid unusual expense as far as possible.

You should grease, oil, adjust and inspect your car thoroughly at least every 300 miles.

If you are not a mechanic and have no facilities for doing this work, try our place.

We make a business of doing it for you.

We keep track of our cost; all we expect is a fair profit on our investment.

We are anxious to have you commence to figure.

How Many Indians?
There has been much discussion as to the probable number of the Indians at the time of the coming of the first whites. Extremists on the one hand have imagined a population of millions, while on the other hand the untenable claim has been made that Indians are as numerous today as at any former period. Unquestionably most of the explorers and early writers overestimated their numbers—some of them did this intentionally, others erroneously. The Indians always boasted of their great numbers. To the first travellers in the wilderness a few tents seemed like a city. The Indians were nomads and wandered from north to south as the seasons varied. Some of them were constantly on the move to escape enemies. It was and is impossible to much more than guess at their numbers.

From the portage between the Fox and Wisconsin rivers to the Des Moines, Jolliet saw no Indians. In Illinois, the early missionaries described their journeys as through appalling solitudes, and represented their vocation as a chase after a savage that was scarce ever to be found and they could count hardly five, or even three, villages in the whole region.

ology estimates that the Indian population within the limits of the United States proper at the time of the coming of the white man was $46,000. Bancroft estimated that there were 180,000 Indians in the limits of the United States and east of the Mississippi river in the spring time of English colonization.

It is entirely probable that the aboriginal tenants of the present States of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan and Wisconsin, at the time of Jolliet's exploration did not exceed eighteen or twenty thousand.

The Indians in 1818.

When Illinois was admitted as a state, it was frontier country. The northern part was still the frontier of both the Indian trader and the military post, while the southern part was the frontier of the pioneer settler. At that time the southern limit of the Indian country was a line drawn east from the mouth of the Illinois river to a point about ten miles west of the Wabash river and then northeast to the Vermillion river.

The location of this line was determined by a series of treaties between the U. S. and the various Indian tribes, the first of these treaties being that of Greenville, made in 1795, the last being one made at St. Louis made in 1816.

By the treaty made at St. Louis in 1816 the United States cleared its title to the lands between the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, later known as the military tract, and a strip of land connecting that region with Lake Michigan, so that a canal could be cut from Illinois to Lake Michigan, but the Indians were to be allowed to continue hunting and fishing on the canal strip.

Indian Remnants.

In September, 1818, representatives of the remnants of all the Illinois and several other tribes gathered at Edwardsville and ceded their claim to the United States. Neither of these treaties, however, gave to the United States undisputed claim to the lands claimed by the Kickapoos. This tribe claimed by right of conquest and possession the whole of Central Illinois from the Illinois river east almost to the Wabash river, and even other sections of the state. By the Kickapoo cession of 1819 the lands in Illinois claimed by the Indians were reduced to a strip across its extreme northern side and the Indian claim to these lands was not given up entirely until 1832.

The Kickapoo Treaty.

The treaty by which the Kickapoos ceded their lands to the U. S. was made on the 30th day of July, 1819, at Edwardsville, Ill. August Chouteau and Benjamin Stephenson represented the U. S. and Po-no-a-tam, Po-na-see, Koo-att-a, Sho-ko-an, Mawn-to-ho and eighteen dusky chiefs and warriors, with their plumes heads, paint and wampum acted for themselves and their tribe. When they reluctantly made their scruples and marks to the treaty they gave up forever to the hated pale-faces, whose scalps they would rather have been lifting, if they dared, their homes, their hunting grounds and the graves of their ancestors of whose might and prowess they boasted much, gave up forever their claims to twelve million, six hundred thousand acres of land in Illinois for the small sum of less than one-sixth of a cent per acre and the promise of a permanent home across the Mississippi.

The aboriginal inhabitants of Illinois during the eighteenth century were almost annihilated by surrounding tribes.

By 1818, the Cahokia, Moingwena, Michigan and Tamaroa had disappeared as distinct tribes, the remnants of the Peoria still lived on the upper Illinois river and the Kaskaskia, reduced to less than a hundred souls, lingered on a small reservation near Kaskaskia. So disappeared the Illinois confederacy which gave our state its name.

Next to the Kaskaskia the nearest neighbors of the white settlers in the south were the Kickapoos, who were scattered along the valley of the Sangamon from the headwaters of the Kaskaskia river to the Illinois. It also appears that they had a village or two west of the Illinois. The Kickapoos in 1818 numbered about 600. North of the Kickapoos were the Sauk and Fox with their principal villages near the mouth of the Rock river on both sides of the Mississippi. In spite of the nominal session of their lands, these tribes occupied portions of Illinois. There were Winnebago in the northwest part of the state and in the northeast part were the Pottawatomi and their associated bands of Ottawa and Chippewa, with villages on the Rock, Fox, Kankakee, Des Plaines and Illinois rivers.

In 1818, the Indians of Illinois retained but little of the independence of self-sufficiency of their fathers. Their agriculture was rude and primitive and they had come to rely on the white traders for articles, once unknown, which had become necessities of life. While the Indians were comparatively peaceful and quiet, there was always a danger that they might take up the hatchet and wage war against the whites.

BASEBALL FANS WILL FIGHT INJUNCTION

Petitions are circulated to hold Park—Owner to remedy matters by improving grounds and changing locations of diamond and stands.

A fight against the imposing of an injunction which would deprive the Jacksonville Indians of Southside park this summer is to be made by local baseball fans. Petitions are being circulated bearing an explanation of the circumstances surrounding the playing at the park, and these are to be presented to the court at the hearing. They have been signed already by scores of fans.

It is understood also that funds are being raised to make a fight against the granting of the injunction. Guy Rook, the owner of the park, has planned to rearrange the diamond and the stands, so as to have them on the south side of the park, at least a quarter of a mile from the residence of persons who might be annoyed by any noise or dust.

It is the intention of the owner to level down the hills and make the park a better ground for playing, so it is reported, and if the restraining order is withheld, the fans and players will have much better advantages for good games than ever before.

GRATITUDE.

To the many friends of Jacksonville of both races. We take these means of expressing our sincere appreciation for the many tokens of respect shown us at our twenty-fifth marriage anniversary held at Bethel A. M. E. church, Friday evening, January 26.

Words are often inadequate to express the gratitude of the human heart, and are as empty vehicles at this time in expressing the true sentiment of our high appreciation; therefore we beg of our many friends to accept these few words as a true expression of our hearts and pray that God's choicest blessings may ever rest upon you.

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
 Where the race of men go by,
 The men that are bad and the men that are good,
 As bad and as good as I,
 I would not sit in the scorpion's seat."

Now hurl the cynic's ban.

Let me live in house by the side of the road,

And be a friend of man.

Humbly your servant,

R. H. Hackley, pastor Bethel

A. M. E. church,

Ida M. Hackley.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

INCOME TAX FACTS

No. 3.

The high school students had a general assembly Thursday afternoon for the purpose of making general school announcements and of holding a pep meeting. Alfred Cranwell, president of the J. H. S. Radio club made an announcement about the Radio Concert which will be held this evening in the high school auditorium. It was also announced that the Girl's Club meeting has been set for Thursday afternoon, February 8. The program will be given by the members of Group 3.

Tickets for "Daddy Long Legs", the play to be given February 6, by the high school Dramatic club have been put on sale and the reserved seats may be secured at the high school. Two scenes from the play were given in the assembly period on Wednesday and met with enthusiastic response from the students.

The final drive for subscriptions to the High school Exhaust is being made at this time. The paper is now being printed by the high school printing class and can be furnished to the students at a price which is just one half of that which was asked when the paper was being published outside of the school. The assembly period closed yesterday afternoon with a rousing pep meeting for the Springfield-Jacksonville basketball game tonight. A large number of Jacksonville students are planning to go to the Capitol City to see the scrap.

The public speaking class at the high school organized itself into a literary society for this week and outlined a program to be followed at the meetings. This program includes a number of extemporaneous talks on topics of current interest, a reading by Earl Hoover, and another reading, "The Art of Optimism," by Martin Graff.
